IDENTIFYING EMOTIONAL ABUSE

Directions

Are you experiencing emotional abuse? Have you been emotionally abusive to others? Emotional abuse is usually an attempt to get control over another person, and it can be just as damaging as physical abuse. Read the following statements and check all that apply.

Examples of Emotional Abuse
	I have done this	I have experienced this
1. Calling names. Saying things like, "You're ugly" or "You're stupid."
2. Frequently yelling or cursing.
3. Threatening or intimidating.
4. Frequently criticizing or correcting.
5. Lying or cheating.
6. Making accusations that you know are not true.		E
7. Putting responsibility for your problems on the other person.		С
8. Making fun of another person's family, religion, or race.		С
9. Embarrassing or humiliating another person.		С
10. Withholding affection or approval as punishment.		⊏
11. Being overly controlling, such as telling the other person what to say or do.		С
12. Insisting on making all decisions, disregarding the other person's feelings.		Е
13. Making another person feel guilty when you don't get your way.
14. Keeping the other person from their family or friends.
16. Insisting that another person account to you for all of his/her time.		Б
Are there other forms of emotional abuse in your life? List them below.		